THE FAILLACE FAMILY TREE

Rocco Faillace

Blue Grotto, Isle of Capri
Near Naples, Italy

July 22nd, 1953

Mr. & Mrs. Rocco Jaillace

1601121

I dedicate this FAILLACE FAMILY TREE to my beloved, honorable, and sincere wife, Lena Faillace, (for over thirty-three years), who was laid to rest December 3, 1954, at the FAILLACE MUSOLEUM, Kensico Cemetery, Valahalla, New York. She will have everlasting thought in my heart for the information rendered with all the data given herein, may her soul rest in peace forever. To me, she is in a restful sleep until we meet again.

Through the cooperation of all the relatives concerned that have furnished the data. The records are listed as per information rendered and if there are any errors or corrections, excuse all concerned.

Thanks to everyone concerned who have made this possible.

Rocco Faillace,

(son of Nicolo Faillace and Grazia Faillace)

Here is all the data necessary for the young generation to take advantage of and to conclude from all this information gathered by me, an organization to assist all concerned in every respect, by first keeping out ALL SELFISH INTEREST AND PERSONAL GAINS.

FORM AN ORGANIZATION:

1. Name--to be chosen by the group. Suggestive: The Faillace Social Club of the Universe.

2. Meeting once a month or as suggested by the group.

e. Meeting place--changing from place to place, accommodating most of the group.

4. Officers:

a. President - by a board of 12 - change every month - one from each family group - for a period of one year.

b. Vice president - by a board of 12-one from each family group - for a period of one year.

c. Secretary
1. Financial
2. Correspondent
both for a period of one year.

5. Principles:

a. To assist in community activities.
b. To build a home, centralized in a warm climate, such as Florida, for all its members.
c. To assist all its members in high standards for peace and social.

6. Membership:

a. Active - must be Faillace or offspring from Faillace family. (Must have Faillace name or Faillace mother.)
b. Associate Members - relationship of mother or grandmother to Faillace family.

7. Legality of meeting: At least seven members must be present at meeting.

8. A program committee of three: to be appointed every year by the members and their function as follows:

a. Formulate dates - place - time of meeting.
b. Mimeograph copies to all members with a list of club members and their addresses.
c. Purpose of each meeting date - time and place.
d. This will be a nonpolitical and nonsectarian organization.
e. This organization's main aim, scope, and purpose--to promote good will and good fellowship policies.

In 1953: Visited by Mr. & Mrs. Rocco Faillace with daughters, Grace E. and Gertrude E. from July 28 to August 5--9 days. Towns visited : Palermo, Monrcale, Catania, Taormina, Santa Teresa di Riva, Piazza di Armarina, Leonforte, Mestretti, Messina, Motta di Affermo, Messina via First-class train and private cars. Hotels: (Abergho) Villa Igiea (Palermo) and San Domenico Palace in Taormina, via American Express conducted tour.

While we stopped at Catania for three hours for train connections, for Taormina, our aunt and uncle, Al Sign Antonino Giordano, met us at the station. They are the wealthy relatives. He is a General Contractor and Apartment House Builder. They took us to their home and we enjoyed their hospitality. They had the chauffeur take us on a tour of the city and return us to the station to meet our train for Taormino. We also met Angelina and Mrs. Giordano (Marietta) who are both sisters of Jseph P. Faillace and children of Paolo Faillace and Lucrezia Longo.

When we took a personal tour of the mountain towns we first stopped at Piazza di Armerina, where we went to visit some of our relatives--- Mr. and Mrs. Antonino P. Faillace and also met their two daughters and their son Frank's wife and two children and went to the movies with them. Antonino P. Faillace is a brother of Jseph P. Faillace, children of Paolo Faillace.

While visiting these mountain towns, we observed the following: People congregated at village squares (piazzas), conversing and talking about peace. They work on their wheat fields and still use primitive methods of manufacturing. Salaries are very low. Once we saw in a plac where they sell women's wear at the square, dresses (sent by the Americans to be distributed to the poor free of charge), being sold according to the looks of the dresses. When we inquired, we were told, "So we can pay the American debt." We told them that was a wrong impression.

On August 1, 1953 at 5:00 a.m., Nino Rigano, brother of Carmelo Rigano (my brother-in-law), and the chauffeur toured my beloved wife, Lena Faillace and myself to the Sicily mountain towns, Piazzo di Armerina, Leonforte, Mestretti, Caropepe, Nicosia, and Motta di Affermo. We stopped at Hotel Graziano fu Graziano for dinner and returned to Hotel in Taormino at 12:10 a.m.

Simone Faillace was born between 1790 and 1800 in Sicily (parents unknown) and married in Sicily to Angela between 1810 and 1819. They had two children.
